

GRANT OF COPYRIGHT

I, _____,
(hereinafter: the author) assign to the magazine Drogues, Santé et Société, (hereinafter: the magazine), and its successors, an exclusive license:

a) To publish, for the first time, the text titled:

(hereinafter: the text) in the magazine Drogues, Santé et Société, in any languages and anywhere in the world;

- b) To edit the text according to the magazine's requirements, subject to my revision and final approval within a reasonable period determined by the magazine, Drogues, Santé et Société;
- c) I guarantee that the text is original and written by me, that its publication does not interfere with the rights of another party and that I have full authority to conclude this contract;
- d) I guarantee that the text has not been published, in all or in part, anywhere else and that I have not participated in any agreement to this effect with anyone whomsoever. If applicable, I agree to obtain permission, from the copyright holder, to include in my text any passage requiring such permission;
- e) As a contribution to the magazine, Drogues, Santé et Société, I authorize the reproduction, adaptation, distribution and public exhibition of my text in electronic media, computer data banks and other similar supports; this authorization includes the right to publicly exhibit, convert to a machine-readable form, reproduce and distribute copies of the text;
- f) I assign to the magazine, Drogues, Santé et Société, the right to authorize the reproduction, re-printing of the text in electronic or print form, in any language and in any country;
- g) This agreement shall be effective as of the date of publication of the text and for five (5) years following its publication.
